Competitive content gap

See the topics your competitors own that you don't, and the questions nobody answers yet.

Maps your content against up to four competitors' content topic by topic, then finds the gaps, your strengths and the whitespace. Claude ranks the gaps by audience fit and effort, and briefs the top five.

GOOD TO KNOW

Pro tip

Add your category name to the list of words every page shares, or one giant topic will swallow half the map.

Make it yours

Every template is a starting point. Rename sections, cut what you don't need, and add what your team does differently.

WHAT'S INSIDE

01

Paste lists in any shape

URLs, paths, titles or a raw sitemap.xml. The page splits slugs, strips filler words and stems what's left into topic terms.

02

A coverage map in your browser

Topics × companies with page counts, built as you paste. No Claude needed, and you can copy it as a table.

03

Gaps, strengths and whitespace

Topics competitors cover and you don't, topics only you cover, and audience questions no page answers.

04

Clustered by meaning

Claude regroups topics by the reader's question, so "content decay" and "refresh old posts" land together.

05

Ranked with a rubric you can argue with

Each gap gets scores for audience fit, competitive pressure, question match and effort, and every score is shown.

06

Briefs for the top five

Working title, angle, outline, internal links and what to gather first, with placeholders where evidence is missing.

Build it on your competitors.

01 Try the demo
Open the page with Fieldbook and three invented competitors loaded. Click a tile to filter the map, then look at the example output.

02 Add the skill
Add the competitive-content-gap folder as a skill in Claude and check that it shows in your skills list.

03 Name your competitors
Ask Claude to compare your site with up to four others. It reads their sitemaps, blog indexes and resource libraries, and says if any list is partial.

04 Add your audience's questions
Paste questions from sales calls, support tickets and search. Any question no page answers becomes whitespace.

05 Prioritize, brief and share
Get the ranked gaps and five briefs, then publish the gap map so your team can rerun it with Claude.
