Content brief writer

Most review rounds are the brief being written late. Get a complete brief before the writer starts.

Turns a rough content request into a complete brief with open questions, or scores an existing brief and gives you the questions to ask the requester.

GOOD TO KNOW

Pro tip

Add the headings your old briefs use to each section's aliases, so the Check scan recognizes them on day one.

Make it yours

Every template is a starting point. Rename sections, cut what you don't need, and add what your team does differently.

WHAT'S INSIDE

01

Two modes

Write a brief from a short form or a chat request, or check a brief someone already wrote.

02

Live brief preview

The brief fills in as you type, with placeholders marking what's still missing. It works without Claude.

03

Completeness meter

Every section is scored complete, thin or missing. Required sections count double, and a missing objective, audience or key message means not ready.

04

Heading scan

Paste any brief and see which sections are present, which are thin, and the question to ask for each gap.

05

Intake interview

In chat, Claude asks requesters two or three short rounds of questions, each with a default, instead of a long form.

06

Milestones worked back

Give a publish date and the brief gets outline, draft, review and approval dates from the content type's lead times, moved off weekends.

Build it on your own template.

01 Try the demo
Fill in the Fieldbook example to watch the brief and meter build, then switch to Check and paste the example webinar brief.

02 Add the skill
Add the content-brief-writer folder as a skill in Claude and check that it shows in your skills list.

03 Set up your template
Ask Claude to set up your brief template, and attach your current template or a few past briefs. Confirm the section table.

04 Publish your page
Ask Claude to publish your brief writer page. It adds your sections, content types, lead times and company details.

05 Share it with requesters
Share the page from its Share menu. Requesters brief their own work, and writers check what lands before they start.
